

Factsheet

Oslo Municipality

About

Oslo is the capital of Norway and is unique among Norwegian municipalities as it is also a county. It is located in the central eastern region in Norway, hosting most populous city in Norway. Municipal organization includes more than 50 organizations with over 55 000 employees.

 717 000
citizens

 Covers 524 km<sup>2</sup> area

Interacting hazards

- 1987 Aker Brygge storm surge
- Storm surge - Coastal flood - Fluvial flood - Climate change
- 2023 Forest fire in North Oslo
- Heatwave - Drought - Forest fire - Climate change
- 2013 Urban flood in central Oslo
- Intense rainfall - Urban flood - Drainage overflow - Climate change
- 2020 Akerselva river flood
- Heavy rainfall - River flood - Soil erosion - Climate change

High-priority natural hazards identified by Oslo stakeholders

- Icon sized by priority level
- Multi-hazard interaction coloured by types:
Trigger/precondition; Temporally compound;
Multivariate compound; Spatially compound

Scenario

Multi-hazard interaction

Impact chain

