

Factsheet

Métropole Nice Côte d'Azur

About

The Nice Côte d'Azur Metropolis is an intercommunal structure in France located in the Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur region, around the city of Nice. It stretches from a mountainous rural area in the north to a highly urbanized coastal area in the south, bordering the Mediterranean Sea.

over 550 000 inhabitants

Covers
1400 km² area

Interacting hazards

- 3th October 2020 – Storm Alex
- Storm - Extreme rainfall - Landslide
- Flood - Climate change
- 20th October 2020 – Storm Aline
- Storm – Extreme rainfall - Flood - Soil saturation - Landslide - Climate change
- 2023 – Heatwaves (22 days of orange heatwave alerts)
- Heatwave - Drought - Wildfire -
Climate change

High-priority natural hazards identified by Nice stakeholders

- Icon sized by priority level
- Multi-hazard interaction coloured by types:
Trigger/precondition; Temporally compound;
Multivariate compound; Spatially compound

Scenario

Multi-hazard interaction

Impact chain

